At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners appointed by the act of the Kentucky Legislature to build fire-proof public offices at Frankfort, Ky., the following resolution was offered and unaulmously adopted, viz: Resolved, That the Commissioners have a high appreciation of the very superior design and plan of a capitol building presented for competition by Messrs. Stancilit & Andrewartha, and are only barred from its adoption by the limited expenditure authorized by the law under which we act, and the apprehension that a building of such cost would not be sanctioned by the Legislature.

on the motion for a new trial in the case of John Able, alias James Taylor, convicted a few days since of stealing $2,000 in gold from James W. Gibson, in Henderson county, Judge Brnce, of the Jefferson Circuit Court, yesterday rendered ments on first and third pages 33% per the following opinion, overruting the application for a reheating:

The evidence in this case conduces to establish this state of facts: James W. Gloson had in a closet in his residence in Henderson county some $2.000 in gold coin. He had living with him a grandson, about fifteen years old, Frank Gloson, the knew where the coin was kep'. Frank met the defendant at Cairo, in Henderson countr, bout two and a half males distant from his a defendant at Caro. In Inchestron County, at two and a half males distant from hisdianther's. Defendant asked Frank II hadfather's deep dan take frank red yes. Can you get it? Yes. It you will get e will go off with it, where we are not known, establish a saloon. Defendant had been a should come and carry it away, and, as a bind when he should come in it, Frank was to shoul at thin, but to shoot over him. When he should get the coin he was to go off with it, estal tish it e salcon, and then come back for Frank. Whether he would have returned for Frank may be doubted. In accordance with this confisieration Frank abstracted the colu and placed it in the stable. At hight defendant came. Frank shot ever him late, as agreed, but defendant could not find the coin, and went off without it. In a few days Frank carried it in him at Cano, where be took it from Frank's hands, and carried it, ceptiled aspendavit, to the cliv of Henderson. Through a friend he placed it in the bank there for a few days, and thence carried it to Jefferson county, where he was airestedjwith the coin on his person. The defendant, indicted for a larreny of the coin committed in this, Jefferson county, is, by a verdict of the jury, found guilty. He now moves for a new trial. An instruction to the jury was moved by defendant's counsel, according to which these facts did not make him guilty of larceny. This instruction was refused, and one given by the court, according to which these facts did make defendant was guilty of larceny. The facts are stabled to the defendant was guilty of larceny in flenderson county he was equally so in Jefferson. So, the catef question in this motion is, tith the defendant in connection with the stealing of this coin lu Henderson, make him a principal in the asportation of it in this county, or only an accessory? When was this larceny complete? The least removal is an asportation, and completes the crime of him who effects it. Then, was the larceny complete when Frank removed the coin from the closet to the stable? As to him it was, I think also, according to the Carilla cases, (2 East. P. C. 557, 367-8), if defendant had taken the coin from the stable as appointed, it would have made him a principal. But he did not find it that night. It was several days afterward carried to him, two and a half miles distant, to Cairo, where he took it and carried it away.

Did this make him constructively present at the original asportation? If not, was it such a continuing transaction, with which he was connected from its inception, as to make him a principal?

HORRIBLE TREATMENT OF TEXAS CATTLE.

CONDITION OF THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

Boston, May 26.

A stock train arrived at Worcester, Massachusetts on Tuesday, from Albany, en route to Providence, loaded with Texas Cattle, which were found to be in a horrible condition. Twenty-nine large bovines were found jammed into one car, two of which had apparently been dead sometime. Two others were dying, and others were down and unable to rise, while all were evidently starving and had apparently been without food or water for several days.

The cattle were unloaded, fed and exercised; and then put into fresh cars and sent off on their way.

Grant and the Tariff. special to the Cincinnati Chronicle.

Washington, May 24. A prominent official, who is a strong otectionisi, recently called upon President Grant for the purpose of ascertaining his views upon the tariff question. In response to the question the President said he was decidedly opposed to any legislation which has for its object an increase on the taxation of articles or merchandise imported into the United States. It was country demanded it, for such was not the are buying at 1-10 to 50 discount, and seless to say that the revenues of the ase, and it were far better that many of selling at par to 1-10 prem. he high duties already imposed be stricken off, and not burden the country with still higher ones. He would not coneeal the fact that he believed a small tariff was necessary, but he would like to see the revenue of the country raised as far as possible from internal taxes, and not from

RELIGIOUS.

A Remarkable Episcopate. From the N. Y. Evenlng Fost.

It is well known that the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this country are diocesans, but exercise a joint and general authority over the whole church. One of them, Bishop Kingsley, is about to start on a course of Episcopal visitations, which affords a striking illustration of the breadth or the field over which our Ameriean Methodists have extended their missionary operations. He goes first to Colorado, where he will organize an Annual Conference. Thence to Oregon, to and then to Shanghai in China, and fro that to the Conference in Northern India. The following quotations of our gold After that he is to visit the work in Gerthe days of the month are specified on which each meeting is to be held; and such is the completeness of modern arrage ments for travel that very little apprehea sion is entertained of a failure in the appointments. We are often told the drum beat of the British army is heard round the entire world, but we have never heard of a tour of inspection in that organization to complete the circuit of the globe in tifteen months.
